

Invitation Letter for Participants:

As the local organizer of the V World Congress for Chronobiology (V WCC) and the president of World Federation of Societies for Chronobiology (WFSC), we invite you to join this great congress. The meeting will be in April 25-28, 2019 in Suzhou, China.

WCC is held by World Federation of Societies for Chronobiology (WFSC) whose purpose of the Federation is to strive, in all countries, to promote education and the attainment of the highest level of knowledge and understanding in the field of chronobiology. Chinese Society for Biological Rhythms (CSCB-CSBR) will co-host this event with WFSC. CSCB-CSBR has a large scope of experts of around 100 groups in more than 40 institutes in China, from microorganisms, botany, animal science, physics and mathematics etc., with their contributions to scientific community but also by social influences. Our goal is to organize a scientifically vibrant meeting that advances our knowledge of biological rhythms by top presentations and by lively discussions. The over-arching theme of the conference will be “Chronobiology: Translation Opportunities and Challenges”

Suzhou city is reputed for her elegancy named “Paradise on Earth” in China and “Oriental Venice” in World as well as her the most innovative Bio-Pharma industry cluster in China. We do wish the Suzhou city could benefit us with more feeling of tranquility and beauties, and inspirations of science, social concerns and industrial demands.

We are looking forward to working together on the program of V WCC 2019!
